

The Court Historian
Volume 11,2 (December 2006)

The articles in this journal (with one exception) were given as papers at a Society for Court Studies conference on Greenwich Palace held on 23 April 2005. The Society is grateful to the Greenwich Foundation, the National Maritime Museum and English Heritage for their generous support for this publication. The last article, by Julian Bowsher, was not given at the conference, but was prompted by the discovery of the remains of the Tudor Chapel at Greenwich in January 2006.

CONTENTS

Articles

Philip Dixon	The Tudor Palace at Greenwich	105
Thom Richardson	The Greenwich Armouries	113
Simon Thurley	Architecture and Diplomacy: Greenwich Palace under the Stuarts	125
Gordon Higgott	The Design and Setting of Inigo Jones's Queen's House, 1616-40	135
David Jacques	Garden Works in Greenwich Park, 1662-1728	149
Julian M.C. Bowsher	The Chapel Royal at Greenwich Palace	155

Conference Report

Malcolm Smuts	Courts and Scientific Exchange in the Long Seventeenth Century	164
----------------------	--	-----

News		167
-------------	--	-----

Publications		168
---------------------	--	-----

Sales and Acquisitions		175
-------------------------------	--	-----

Exhibitions	177
Recent Conferences	179
News from the Society	180
News from the North American Committee	182