

The Court Historian

Volume 13,1 (June 2008)

Courts and Capitals, 1815-1914

The articles in this issue are based on lectures given at the second joint Society for Court Studies / Victorian Society conference on Courts and Capitals, 1815-1914, held at the Wallace Collection on 29 September 2007.

CONTENTS

Editor's note		1
Articles
Roderick J. Barman	Imperial Cities and Seasonal Residences: Petrópolis, Summer Capital of Brazil (1843-1889) and its European Counterparts	3
Gavin Stamp	Budapest 1867-1914: A Dual Capital for the Dual Monarchy	21
Terry Kirk	The Image of King Vittorio Emanuele II and the Remaking of Rome	35
Giles MacDonogh	'Nothing Is Too Colossal, Nothing Too Expensive': William II and Berlin	51
Jack Hamilton	False Starts and Failed Hopes: The Rise and Fall of Royal Sofia 1878-1946	61
Book Reviews
Charles C. Noel	The Power of Coaches	75
William Kuhn	Forgotten Victorians	81
Katharine MacDonogh	Canine Courtiers	85
Exhibition Review
John Whitehead	The Politics of Porcelain	87

Conference Reports
Silvia Z. Mitchell	The Queen's Household: Politics, Diplomacy and Culture	91
Matteo Casini	The Search for Status	97
The Rudolstadt Research Group		101
News		103
Publications		104
Sales and Acquisitions		114
Exhibitions		117
Conferences		121
News from the Society		123